Red Arrows returning to Falmouth for third year

The RAF's Red Arrows will be bringing their spectacular display to the skies above Falmouth for the third consecutive year thanks to sponsors Falmouth Harbour Commissioners (FHC).

The Red Arrows are provisionally set to perform on Wednesday, August 10, as one of the highlights of Henri Lloyd Falmouth Week. It is hoped the full display will include some of the Red Arrows' signature formations including the Heart, Arrow and Concorde.

Last year 25,000 people flocked to the town to watch the world-famous aerial display – although it is thought thousands more viewed from other vantage points around the Carrick Roads – bringing significant economic benefits to the area.

FHC Chairman David Ellis said: "Falmouth Harbour Commissioners are proud to be bringing the iconic Red Arrows to Falmouth once again this year to add that an extra special bit of excitement to Henri Lloyd Falmouth Week.

“Seeing the Red Arrows above Falmouth is a sight to behold and has quickly become one of the highlights of the week.

“We hope many thousands of people will join us to enjoy the spectacle of this fantastic event. By sponsoring it we are delighted to be able to give something back to the community which supports us all year round. We will all be keeping our fingers crossed for clear skies and fine weather on August 10.”

The Red Arrows are renowned throughout the world as ambassadors for both the Royal Air Force and the United Kingdom. 2011 is the 47th display season for the Royal Air Force Aerobatic Team. Since the Team was formed in 1965, it has performed more than 4,000 displays in 53 different countries.

As well as sponsoring the Red Arrows FHC plays a major role in ensuring sailors and teams competing in events over the week long festival remain safe, both whilst out at sea and when moored within the harbour.
